ASSIGNMENT #5 DUE: JUNE 19

DRAFT POSTER

You all have “base” content from your spring research presentations. As we have discussed, the poster is simply another way to present information about your research that you orally presented via your PowerPoint. As you begin to analyze your data and arrive at your findings, you should be thinking about how you will incorporate your results into your presentations – both oral and poster. Your mentors will be instrumental in this process as most of you discovered during the spring symposium.

We ask that you work on these items during the summer because time is extremely limited in the fall. It will be to your advantage to solidify your PP and poster in conjunction with writing your final paper. You should note that you may wish to enhance your PP’s from the spring as you delve deeper into your research and achieve a greater understanding of your project. We expect to see enhanced PP’s in addition to the insertion of your results and discussion.

Assignment: Based on the poster presentation workshop, create a draft poster of your research utilizing content from your oral PowerPoint presentation. You may wish to work on your PP as well although we realize that you are still in the process of collecting data and probably won’t have results just yet. Remember that you will be turning in draft posters and PP’s on July 17 as well as August 7, and at that point, you will be expected to have a more finalized version (including results) of both.

Upload a copy of your draft poster for this assignment.
